HOYT DEFEATS LITTLE NEHF IN MOUND BATTLE

Crowd In Attendance at Second Game of the World Series Is Estimated at Thirty-five Thousand Fans

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK.—(By Associated Press.)—The Giants sent to the mound their southpaw, Little Artie Nehf, for today's world series fray with the Yankees, while the Yankees pinned their faith in Hoyt, as twirler.

The attendance was estimated at 30,000.

Before the game Governor Miller of New York was escorted across the field, led by the band. He took his seat near the Yankees' bench.

LEAGUE ADJOURNS

GENEVA.—(By United Press)—Delegates to the second assembly of the league of nations were today leaving Geneva, to return to report to their respective governments the progress achieved in the 1921 sessions.

Summing up and outlining the work accomplished here this year, President Karasbeck laid stress on the creation of an international court of justice as the most important achievement of the session just closed.

There was also, he said, the establishment of mechanism for the application of an economic blockade, the directing of a disarmament commission to draw up an international treaty with definite disarmament plans and the setting up of an international conference to control private manufacture of war material and traffic in arms.

Three new nations have been taken into the fold, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

A new "white slave" treaty has been signed by many of the states, and will be signed by others.

The assembly also urges the allies to speed up negotiations with the United States regarding mandates.

Woman
A LITTLE girl attended a one-room school house at Janesville, Wis. The school house now is dedicated, as a museum, in honor of the little girl, Frances E. Willard, known in history as national president of the W. C. T. U. for many years, also the only woman to have her statue in the Hall of Fame, Washington, D. C.

Ever notice that nearly all the statues are of men? Time will change that. Woman, when she obtains complete freedom and equality, will have as many representatives among the great as men now have. She should have more. Few men achieve greatness. When they do, it's always a gift from their mothers.

Waste
FOR every 76 pounds of coal actually converted into mechanical energy, 51 pounds go into the ash pit, 416 pounds go up the chimney as smoke and gases, says the Geological Survey.

The greatest field for inventions and wealth is in the elimination of waste. We get very little of the real strength and power out of what we use, waste claiming the lion's share.

So far, it hasn't bothered us much, our natural resources are so tremendous. When they near the vanishing point, attention will be turned to waste, ways found to prevent it. It cannot come sooner, to preserve resources for future generations.

Taft
WILLIAM HOWARD TAIT rides on a street car to take his new job as chief justice of the United States Supreme Court. This, too, no it was a rainy day in Washington and most of us under similar circumstances would have called a taxi.

It recalls Thomas Jefferson, who rode horseback to become president, and hitched his nag in front of the White House.

Or Lincoln, who used to receive diplomats when his barber was shaving him and his face was covered with lather.

Let us hope that Taft carries his democratic spirit car-riding spirit to the workings and decisions of the Supreme Court.

Love
IS love a psychic attraction or is it just a matter of propinquity—being near each other for a long enough time?

At Lockney, Texas, S. H. Bolin, 6 years old, stopped hoeing potatoes, leaned the hoe against the fence and sighed. On the other side of the fence, the sigh was heard by Mrs. Fannie E. Brown, 59. They were talking about garden difficulties, discovered they had ideas in common.

Bolin proposed. Wedding bells. He and his wife had been neighbors 4 years before he proposed.

Debts
Good news for tax-payers comes from the Treasury Department. The national debt October 1 was $2,324,108,000. That is $2,672,333,000 less than it was August 31, 1919. Burden grows lighter. One cause: Government slowly buys and retires Liberty Bonds and Victory Notes by the sinking fund system.

Subtract another $10,000,000,000, and we are from allies, and our national debt doesn't give us a headache to look at. Will the allies ever be able to pay? That depends largely on whether Germany pays them. It's the old story—the stick began to beat the dog, the dog began to bite the pig, the pig jumped the sty.

Eggs
TWO hundred eggs are consumed yearly, in the United States, for each man, woman and child. In England, the average consumption is only 93 eggs, says National Poultry Council London.

That is a pretty good ratio for comparing the standard of living in London.

We Americans are better off than any other people. We do not realize it until we compare our lot with other nations.

Paying
BUSINESS men often say: "Prices will be kept for above 1913 because we have to pay interest on that awful war debt."

In actual times the average American's income is $340 a year—total of $36,000,000,000 for all of us. In 1910, with inflated prices, it was $53,000,000,000.

Get out your pencil. To pay interest on the national debt will require only a twentieth of our national income.

That means we can "carry" the war debt if prices are kept about four per cent above 1914 levels. If prices are kept, say 10 per cent above pre-war, the principal can be paid off fast.

HAS BIG JOB

Col. Arthur Woods.

WOODS PLANS TO MAKE JOBS

Hoover's Commissioner to Speed Up Action.

WASHINGTON.—(Special)—"Jobless men and women all over the United States are demanding immediate employment.

"Quick results can be had, not thru the unemployment conference, but thru community work.

"That's my job—to get all states, cities and towns busy at once providing jobs."

So says Colonel Arthur Woods, former police commissioner of New York City, who has been appointed by Secretary of Commerce Hoover to coordinate work done to relieve unemployment.

"The conference is looking toward getting the whole industrial situation straightened out," says he. "My work, however, will be to apply prompt remedies. It is absolutely necessary to get something started in every community.

"There are thousands of men eager to work and qualified to work. They are out of jobs thru no fault of their own.

"Every man of them is entitled to a job. He must be given the opportunity to earn his living. Where can the opportunity come from quickies?"

"Thru the cooperation of governors, mayors, county commissioners, churches and civic organizations!"

WORK IN EVERY TOWN
"In every town in America there is work that should be done, but is being put off for no good reason.

"In every state it is likely that the governor can bring about the employment of many jobless thru rushing state work.

"Churches and civic organizations have been known to do wonders thru campaigns. Was there ever a time when a campaign would mean more?"

"Cooperation in every American community is the immediate answer to the unemployment problem.

"And while we are getting that into swing, the industrial conference will come right along with aid for the situation as a whole."

WOODS' RECORD
Born in Boston in 1870, Woods was graduated from Harvard and attended the University of Berlin. Between 1895 and 1905 he worked as a reporter on the New York Evening Sun, was in the lumber business in Mexico and the cotton business in Boston.

In 1907 he became deputy police commissioner of New York City and in 1914 police commissioner. In 1918 he was appointed associate director on the Committee of Public Information for foreign propaganda, and later was a lieutenant colonel in the aviation section of the U. S. army.

In the latter part of 1918 Woods was appointed assistant director of military aeronautics and was made a member of General Pershing's staff. He drew his honorable discharge in January, 1919.

Shortly after he was made assistant secretary of war, in charge of efforts to help re-establish service men in civil life.

BOOZE SUPPLY IS PLENTIFUL HERE

Kenton Police Told Lima is Distribution Point.

DRY OFFICERS ARE COMING

Allen-co Man in Road Crash Fined On Two Charges.

Discovery of wholesale liquor traffic, with Lima as the base of supply, is alleged to have been made by prohibition enforcement officers Thursday, thru the arrest of J. F. Arnold, of Lafayette, at Roundhead, Wednesday. He was held on two charges.

Argold is concerned in the distribution of booze from this city, according to information received from Kenton, where he is now held in jail.

He is said to have made damaging admissions to the authorities there, the extent of which is not divulged. Prohibition agents are said to be already enroute to Lima, with the intention of investigating conditions here.

GOT LIQUOR OVER BAR

Arnold, who claims to be the son of a former Allen-co commissioner, visited Lima early Wednesday night. He is said to have told the Kenton police of calling at a number of places here, where he drank liquor over the bar. One of these saloons, he stated, is located in E. Wayne st, and others where Arnold claimed "hooch" is sold if the customer has the "high sign," are located in the immediate vicinity.

After becoming well intoxicated, Arnold drove toward Roundhead in a car. Near that place he ran into a rig driven by Sam Hoover, a farmer. The horse drawing the vehicle was badly injured in the collision.

Hardin-co Sheriff C. C. Johnson and Chief of Police O. D. Sheldon, of Kenton, were called and the man arrested. When tried Wednesday he had no recollection of the accident. A large quantity of whiskey, claimed to have been purchased in Lima, was in his possession.

LIMA DISTRIBUTION POINT

He told prohibition enforcement officers at Kenton that liquor is not difficult to obtain in this city and that from here large quantities are distributed to nearby cities.

The entire nature of his disclosures is being kept secret, but will be used in investigations here.

When arraigned before Mayor C. C. Stevenson, Thursday, Arnold pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated and to illegal transportation of liquor. He was fined $50 on the first and $100 on the second charge and remanded to jail in default of payment.

MILITARY ORDER IS PROTESTED

Change of Troop E From Cavalry to Artillery Opposed.

Vigorous protest against the proposed transfer of Troop E, cavalry, to an artillery unit, and the relinquishment of command by Captain Kenneth Kerr, ordered Thursday by a representative of the adjutant general's office, was determined by a chamber of commerce members Thursday afternoon.

Secretary Johnson of the chamber of commerce was instrumental in getting in touch with some 25 business men during the afternoon and these men promised to send night letters of protest to the state adjutant general against the change and the dismissal of Captain Kerr.

The name of the representative from the adjutant general's office near the name of the Lima man to whom Captain Kerr is ordered to turn over his command, were not available late Thursday.

NEW COLLEGE FOR LABOR OPENED

Institution Established by Unions at Katonah, N. Y.

KATONAH, N. Y.—(By Associated Press)—Brookwood, a resident workers' college, opened here today with more than 30 men and women students who will train for leadership in labor and farm movements.

The college, which was founded by a number of labor organizations, aims to train economists, statisticians, writers, teachers, organizers and other workers and speakers "in order that these labor movements may have people coming from their own ranks with their own point of view who are fully capable by training and knowledge of everlasting a genuine statesmanship."

STUDENTS WORK

Brookwood will be not only a college but an experiment in community living. Every one will take his turn at washing dishes and performing the necessary tasks about the school grounds.

"Faculty and students perform the jobs that call for attention from cooking to wood cutting, and from farming to dish washing," said the college prospectus. "The importance and dignity of hand work and head work are both fully recognized."

The school will be one of genuine democracy and self-government, according to announcements. The ruling power of the college will be an academic "town meeting," where everybody will have one vote, whether faculty member or student.

TWO YEAR COURSE

The course of study will be two years, but there will be a third year of post-graduate work of a specialized character for those who wish. The regular course the first year includes, social problems, history of civilization, English language and literature and science. The second year continues social problems and includes modern social history, science and certain practical courses, such as statistics, labor organization, labor and farm journalism and workers education.

Students to the college are chosen by labor organizations who have donated scholarships.

The cooperative labor committee, which took a prominent part in founding the institution is headed by John Fitzpatrick (Chicago labor leader), and James H. Maurer, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor.

MURDERED MAN FOUND IN NEW YORK HOTEL

NEW YORK.—A trial of international intrigue, involving the secret service of at least two foreign powers, was being by special investigators today to tie behind the mysterious murder of Nitara Yasuhara, a Japanese, found strangled in a hotel here.

A general alarm has been sent out for another Japanese who is believed to have lured the dead man to his doom. Evidence that the murder was committed according to the best scientific principles of Jiu Jitsu led police and detectives to the theory that a fellow countryman of the slain Yasuhara committed the crime. Papers found on the body of the victim indicated he was in the employ of another foreign power.

CUT RAIL RATES, SAYS CAPPER

High Tariffs Blocking Prosperity, Kansas Senator Asserts.

TRADE CHANNELS STIFLED

Industries of the Nation Throttled He Declares.

(BY ARTHUR CAPPER)

WASHINGTON.—(N. E. A. Service.)—High freight rates today not only are blocking every effort of farmers, manufacturers and business men to get back to normal, but are eating away the very root of business and national prosperity.

There's no more opportune time to cut these excessive rates than right now. The railways' proposed wage reduction will net them a saving of $400,000,000 a year. That should be topped off freight rates.

A cut right now, coupled with the business stimulus of a rich harvest would put every class of business back on its feet. But if the present rates are maintained, business cannot recover from stagnation until spring—if at all.

Here's what freight rates are doing to you, to me, to everybody:

FARMERS

Hay, hide and sheep production is stifled. Cattlemen say their only salvation lies in keeping cattle out of freight cars. When 200 steers reach market, the railway owns 100.

Corn cannot be shipped with profit from many localities. Sheep must be shipped at a loss, if at all. Thousands of bushels of potatoes and apples will rot in the fields this year, because it costs too much to get them to a place where they can be sold.

MANUFACTURERS

Freight rates have throttled the soft coal, building material and steel industries.

Dituminous coal output is 150,000,000 tons below normal. Steel production is at its lowest ebb since May, 1919. Construction is being held up everywhere.

The packing industry is being driven into the ground. Canadian packers with the benefit of low freight rates are taking away our export meat trade.

The farm machinery industry is sleeping. Freight rates on the average add $45.12 to the cost of a binder, $72.04 to a header, $126.05 to a power hay press and $13.50 to a threshing machine.

RAILWAYS

Excessive rates are acting as a boomerang on the railways themselves!

The Interstate Commerce Commission says the carriers hauled 251,000,000 tons less freight in the first six months of this year than in the same period last year. The Middle West shipped 25,000 fewer cars of hay to Kansas City, the world's greatest hay market, this season than last.

WORKINGMEN

High freight rates are one of the biggest factors in the unemployment wave. Freight rates have forced cutting down production.

This is particularly true in soft coal, steel, building and manufacturing industries. But it can be found all the way along the line.

RETAIL MERCHANTS

Retail dealers are up against it, especially where they're dependent on farmer trade.

The farmer isn't making money. So he's not buying clothing, shoes or new implements.

Retail business in metropolitan centers is suffering, too, because it's affected by the general business stagnation and unemployment.

MASSONS TO ELECT TODAY

DAYTON.—The 105th annual convention of the Royal Arch Masons of Ohio will come to a close here today with the election of officers. More than 130 candidates received the orders of high priest-hood yesterday and last night with Nelson Williams, past grand high priest of Ohio officiating. Another feature was the Master Mason degree work by Dayton lodge Number 147.

MODERN BUSINESS A REAL GAME

Each One of Us Goes To Bat In Office Daily.

WORLD PITCHES US BALLS

Do You Swat or Muff—Success Depends.

(BY B. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK. (Special)—Talk of baseball, did you ever stop to think that each of us goes to bat every day of our life? The world daily pitches balls at us. Our success or failure depends on how we swat or muff these balls.

John D. Rockefeller gave me this definition of his conception of the business game when he was active in the business arena: Business may be likened to a football match. You and your team are on one side; your opponents are on the other side. It is your right, your duty, to take advantage of any and every weakness your opponents show and follow up your advantage to the hilt, so as to score a goal.

Sounds rather ruthless, doesn't it? It favors the axiom "Business is business," an axiom used as a pretext for perpetrating many cold-blooded acts. I greatly doubt whether Mr. Rockefeller, now that he has one foot in the grave—he is eighty-two years of age—is quite as proud of having taken advantage of weaknesses exhibited by opponents as he was while in the thick and heat of the fray. Not a great deal of satisfaction can be derived from looking back upon a life spent on the catch-as-catch-can principle. "Do others or they will do you" isn't in harmony with the basic rule now advocated by the best minds in the business and financial world, namely, the Golden Rule.

I have studied the careers of many business leaders and the histories of many business organizations. The more I learn about the inner workings of the so-called big men's minds, the more convinced I become that the "business is business" method doesn't pay in the long run and that they are the happiest in the eventide of their days who strove conscientiously to live up to the Golden Rule in the daily round of work and business. It has been convincingly demonstrated that the old-time policy of "let the buyer beware" is not permanently profitable, and it consequently is being discarded. It is time to discard also the axiom "Business is Business."

There often comes to my mind the confession made to me by a veteran comptroller of the Harriman railroads after he had retired and was nearing the end of his days. He said, in effect, this: "Since I retired and have plenty of time to think and reflect, I'm not quite as well satisfied as I was at the time about the way we did things. Our rule was to grab as big a share as we possibly could of the rate collected on every shipment which passed over part of our lines and part of any other road. "Our first rule was to get all we could for ourselves and give the other road or roads the least we could get by with. It seemed all right at the time. But— and here he stared pensively toward the heavens—"It looks a bit different now. I'm not so sure that it was a fair way of doing things. I'm not so sure, had I my life to live over again, that I would consent to do it again." Then the old, frail man leaned a deep sigh.

In other words, the football game now being over, he realized that he had been guilty of committing foul play right along. The fact that the foul play had enabled him to score against the other side held for him little consolation. The fine salary he had received for playing the game this way now appeared to him to have been too dearly earned.

But note that he didn't allow such qualms to grip him until it was too late. If Rockefeller has any regrets about the way he played the business game—and I rather suspect he has—he, too, developed such regrets only after it was too late, only after he had become too old to take part in the daily scrimmage.

How many of us are in exactly the same position today? How many of us are playing the game in the "Business is Business" spirit, bent only on looking after Number One and letting the Devil seize the hindmost?

How many of us like Harriman's railroad comptroller will bitterly regret our nearness to tactics once the umpire's whistle is about to sound in our ears?

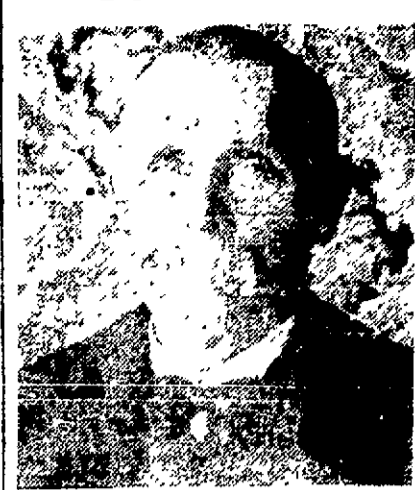

If others could only have opportunity to learn, as I have had opportunity to learn, about what money can do and what it can't do, for those who possess in abundance, they would hesitate to pay too dear a price to gain its possession. Some of the most pitiable objects I have ever known have been wealthy men who made their wealth, to say the least, not in accordance with the Golden Rule, and who discovered, all too late, that they had been worshipping a false God, a God that turned round and knocked them as they tottered towards the grave.

We have all got to go to bat every day. Let us play the game for all we are worth. Let us hit out as vigorously as a Babe Ruth. But let us play fair and square and clean. Let us play so fairly and squarely, and clearly that neither our strongest nor our weakest competitors will have aught to say against us. And, most important of all, let us play the game so that "the still, small voice" will have nothing to say against us when we finally come to the casting up of our life's score.

JACOB CUSTER DIES AT ADVANCE AGE OF 82

Father of County Recorder Custer Called in Death.

Jacob Custer, 82, died Thursday at 6 a. m. at his residence, 213 N. Park-ave, from a complication of diseases. Deceased was born in Auglaize-co, November 25, 1839, and was a retired stone contractor. Surviving are his wife, Phoebe J. Custer; two sons Guy Custer, of Lima, county recorder; Rev. Frank Custer, of Scio, N. Y.; two daughters, Mrs. Edward May, of Lima, and Mrs. Samuel Lippincott, of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Custer celebrated the sixty-third anniversary of their marriage on March 31, 1921. The deceased spent the greater part of his life in Allen-co, having resided in Lima for 39 years. He was a member of the Congregational church. Funeral services will be held Sunday from the Congregational church at 2 p. m., the Rev. Kyle Booth officiating. Interment in Woodlawn.

"Y" DRIVE GOING OVER FINE

Workers Enthusiased—Boys' Divisions Take Lead.

Y. M. C. A. Membership Drive, with the slogan, $300 members in three days, is making rapid headway toward the goal set, according to information at "Y" headquarters Thursday.

Altho no definite figures were available, favorable progress was reported at the evening meeting Wednesday, it was stated. The quota is expected to go over the top before the bell rings down the end of the drive.

The Boys' divisions under Coach Detrick of Central High and Coach Young of South High are leading the membership drive with the largest number of new members to their credit.

Chairman Stephens is urging present members of the association to each obtain one new member this week. He states that he wants the Y. M. C. A., building and equipment used to its capacity this winter.

A general supper meeting for all workers connected with the drive will be held in the "Y" building at 6:30 Thursday evening, at which time some interesting surprises are contemplated.

LAWYER IS OUSTED

United States District Attorney Removed From Office.

WASHINGTON. (By Associated Press).—Thomas G. Slattery, United States attorney for the northern district of Kentucky, was removed from office today by President Harding on recommendation of Attorney General Daugherty.

The reason for the removal was not disclosed by officials. Consideration is being given, it is understood, to the appointment of Sawyer Smith of Covington, as successor to Mr. Slattery.

FUND TRANSFER SOUGHT TO AFFORD BLIND RELIEF

Permission of the court to transfer $12,000 from the county fund to the blind pension fund is asked by the Allen-co commissioners in a petition filed in common pleas court Thursday.

Decision to seek the transfer was made in the form of a resolution adopted by the board, Wednesday. The resolution states that the blind fund is exhausted and that more money is required to care for the 93 blind persons in the county drawing aid. There is ample money in the county fund, it is stated.

COST CUTTING IS BIG PROBLEM

Fisk, Export, Tells Lima Merchants of Business Leaks.

CUT COST, INCREASE PROFIT

Hard Cold Facts For Merchants and Department Heads.

Three Celina men heard Fisk at the Kiwanis luncheon at the Argonne. So impressed were they with him that in their recommendation, a party of 25 arrived here from Celina Thursday afternoon to attend the evening lecture by Fisk in the High School auditorium on "Helping the Goods Sell Themselves." The lecture begins at 8 o'clock.

Gaining power as he rolls along, James W. Fisk, merchandise expert of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, who is conducting the Merchants' Institute here, actually thrilled an audience of business men, merchants and department heads at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium Wednesday night. Cold, hard facts of business operation are not often productive of thrills, but Fisk told a story Wednesday night of loop-holes and leakage in business that sounded as interesting to business men as the best selling "Diamond Dick" ever read by a wayward youngster.

Every statement Fisk made to his audience of seventy-five Wednesday night concerned the merchants' pocketbook and he showed the devious ways in which the profits can shrink away from a business and how a man can be in business only for the love of it and not to make money.

Fisk did not advocate high prices or excessive profits. He believes in the lowest possible selling price on goods, but he urged the merchants to take stock of their business and make money by saving it from waste thru the thousand and one little holes that lose big totals.

Fisk was a busy man all during the day Thursday. He visited several merchants at their request and talked over their problems with them, gave advice and did his best to be of assistance to them. And from reports he made good in every place.

CUTTING COST MAKES PROFITS

"Cutting the Cost of Doing Business" was the topic for Wednesday night and it was wonderfully developed in such a way that it was understandable to all, altho some rather complicated problems were handled.

At the outset, Fisk pointed to the fact that the right kind of records are an actual necessity and a poor system is one of the most common and the most dangerous of sources of leaks and waste. "Your records are your hand book or guide," he said. "If they are up to the minute, comprehensive and complete, they tell you almost at a glance where you are losing money whether it is thru the expense of heating, lighting, light, clerk hire or the many other ways money can be lost. These expenses are all necessary, but you can save on them."

"You can cut your rent, not by bow-heating or pleading with the landlord—for the most of them are obdurate—but by seeing that there are no waste spaces in your store. If you have one corner of your store that isn't working or one corner that isn't producing as much as it should, then you are losing so much money that could reduce your rent. If one space is failing to come to the mark, make it do so and you are cutting down your costs."

MUST KNOW WHAT YOU SPEND

"In the first place," Fisk continued, "you must know just how much you ought or can make. When you are figuring out your expense, don't forget to include as outgo a salary for yourself as the owner; and that salary is just as much as you consider you can make in some other business. If you are a good business man you will also add to your expense account the interest on your investment; and it should be at least six per cent, or otherwise why not sit back and let your money make that much in some other sort of an investment where you don't have the worry of the trouble you have running a busy store?"

"I believe in subdividing expense into various accounts and the more the better. Every subdivision you make of your expense accounts gives you a more definite analysis of your business."

WASTE AND OVERWEIGHT
Fisk went on from the necessary expenses to the expenses caused by wastage, overmeasurements and overweights. He declared every dealer should give the exact weight, not a fraction of an ounce less than right, and not a fraction more; not an eighth of an inch more or an eighth of an inch less in measurement. He declared a customer bought just enough goods to meet his or her purpose, and if an over measurement is given, the customer only had to throw that much away and no one got any benefit. The merchant is the only loser.

The expert advised talking to clerks occasionally on this point and also admonishing them to be particular in making charges at the moment a sale is made and before another customer is served. Forgetfulness in charge making, he declared, annually costs merchants thousands of dollars.

OTHER LEAKAGES
Other leakages reviewed were those caused by failure of clerks to get to work on time and leaving lights burning when they are not needed. He referred to "buying mistakes" made by the boss himself and advised merchants to be more thorough in listing their mistakes than their successes, in order that they may avoid those mistakes in future dealings.

Fisk here went into the technicalities of doing business and gave some remarkable tips which will be of great value to merchants. He spoke of the turnover and made the statement that the only dollar that is worth anything is the dollar which is turning over all the time. Salaries were also taken up and the lecturer urged greater cognizance of the individual ability and money making power and less of the mechanical requirements of any certain business in determining salaries. "The only way to reduce actual salaries," he said, "is to increase individual production and get more for what you pay."

THE DELIVERY QUESTION
Considerable time was given to the delivery question and Fisk advocated a co-operative system of deliveries which he declared would reduce cost to a surprising degree and at the same time increase efficiency. "The sign on your individual wagon is a long ago expiring fallacy. It means nothing but more expense while the co-operative system means money saving and a time saving."

FOUR BEGIN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Three Wives and One Husband Are Plaintiffs.

CLAIMS HOME BROKEN UP

Cruelty, Neglect, Failure to Provide, is Charged.

Four petitions for divorce asked by Allen-co husbands and wives who cannot agree with their mates, were filed in common pleas court Thursday.

Cruelty is the allegation made by Mrs. Mabel Focht, a cigarmaker who married Harold Focht, a boiler maker, a year ago. She is with her mother in Wapakoneta. She charges that he struck her with a hair brush August 23 and refused to permit her to have her clothing when she was packing up to leave, at his orders. On May 30, the petition recites, Focht pinched and slapped her and on July 4 he threatened to take her life.

Mrs. Focht asks the court to award alimony and restore her maiden name Mabel Faria.

MRS. TIMPE CHARGES
"Wild women" broke up the home of Goldie Fay Tipple, wife of Leo Irwin Tipple, 1177 Tanner-ave, a laborer, she charges in a petition filed in court Thursday.

He was out running around with them at night, she declares, and as a consequence neglected to provide for herself and two children, Mary, 6, and Bessie, 4. She asks the court to award suitable alimony. The couple were married in July 1918.

Restoration of her former name, Mildred L. Pickering, is asked in a petition for divorce filed in common pleas court Wednesday by Mrs. Mildred Eley, against Gerald Eley, Spencerville.

Mrs. Eley alleges neglect, non-support and cruelty. The couple were married, the petition states, February 9 and parted August 3.

WIFE IS DEFENDANT

Failure to care for his home and squandering his money are allegations preferred in a divorce petition filed in court Wednesday by Frank Szydram, an oil man, against Laura Szydram, his wife, mother of six children.

While in Oklahoma, he states she wrote him she was thru with married life. He sent her $1,223, which he says she spent, and later he was forced to settle debts amounting to $350.

INTEREST IS BAR

Homebuilding Held Back Thru Lack of Funds.

BY NORRIS QUINN
WASHINGTON. (Special).—High interest rates and a lukewarm attitude on the part of bankers toward prospective home builders is tying up home construction.

That's the conclusion of the Division of Housing and Construction, Department of Commerce, after a nationwide survey of building credit conditions.

Secretary Hoover ordered the probe. It was carried out by mailing questionnaires to building and loan association secretaries in every part of the nation. The survey shows:

THAT heavy discounts exacted in second mortgage notes virtually amount to an interest rate of 11 to 20 per cent.

THAT in many sections funds for financing second mortgages are impossible to get.

THAT many banks are loaning very little of their savings funds to home builders, diverting it into channels where profits are greater and turnover quicker.

Remedial legislation already has been introduced into congress but it is improbable that home builders will get relief at this session.

TORTURE CHARGED

Chicago Man Accused of Beating, Scalding Children.

CHICAGO. (By United Press).—Fiendish tortures of children were charged against Roy Butler, colored, arrested today.

Butler killed one child three years ago, Rena Coleman, with whom the man had been living, told police.

She charged he killed three-year-old Harold Coleman by beating him and allowing him to fall from a chair so that he fractured his skull. Harvey, seven years old, was taken to Cook-co hospital, suffering from terrible injuries resulting from the alleged torture of Butler.

Butler, 27 years old, and employed as a janitor, was taken into custody when neighbors discovered the plight of Harvey.

Butler, the authorities declare, poured liniment on the boy's hands and then placed them in a red-hot oven. Not content with this, police say he threw the child into a cauldron of boiling water.

TAO, YOU'RE IT, IS GAME IN OBSERVANCE OF CANDY DAY HERE

There was a wild scramble Thursday afternoon when more than 2,000 kiddies from the grade schools packed public square to get one of the 500 balloons launched from the top of Cincinnati block.

Each balloon carried a tag and 300 of the tags were good for a box of candy at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. The boxes were given out by a bevy of "Y. W." girls.

Wednesday's distribution in the square was a big success, dealers state, a truck load of stick candy being given to the boys and girls.

Friday, Boy Scouts will tag 5,000 persons in the city. A certain percentage of the tags will be good for a box of candy each at local dealers.

You may get a lucky number.

GUN USER MAKES HIS ESCAPE

Quarrel in Card Game With 10-Cent Limit Starts Trouble.

George Riley, 53, colored, arrested by the police following a mystery shooting at the Pennsylvania tunnel in N. Union-st late Wednesday, was released after questioning.

Riley, who claims to reside in Aiger, told the officers he was playing a game of cards with a stranger whom he met along the railroad right of way.

A dispute arose over the stakes, amounting to 10 cents. The stranger whipped out a revolver and fired twice. Neither shot took effect, but passed uncomfortably close, Riley stated.

Persons residing nearby heard the shooting and called the police. Both the stranger and Riley fled, the latter being captured near the Lima Brewing company plant.

Search for the man alleged to have fired the shots proved fruitless. A number of suspects picked up were released.

GIVES RULING ON TRANSPORTATION

State's Attorney Tells Duty of Boards of Education.

C. A. Arganbright, county superintendent, Thursday received an opinion from John G. Price, state attorney general, regarding the duties of boards of education to provide work in high school branches.

The attorney general's opinion in part says: "If a board of education required to provide work in high school branches does not provide such work in the district, then it must provide such work by transporting outside the district. The board may decide its method of providing high school work, but under Section 7764-1 such work must be provided."

"A board of education maintaining a second or third grade high school is meeting the requirements of Section 7764-1 by providing work in high school branches for those pupils who have not graduated from a second or third grade high school."

This opinion makes it necessary for boards of education having to high schools to furnish transportation for the first two years of high school work to pupils residing more than four miles from high school. The attorney general will decide later whether transportation must be provided those who do not work beyond a second or third grade school. An opinion is also forthcoming as to whether pupils having the last two years of a four-year course are entitled to transportation.

LAW ENFORCEMENT LEAGUE TO DISCUSS FIGHT ON BOOZE

The Allen-co Law enforcement convention opens its session at Trinity M. E. church, in W. Market-st, Friday at 1 p. m. J. W. Kilgore will preside as chairman.

Enforcement of liquor laws and provision for prosecution of violations is the object of the meeting. Among those who will deliver talks are: Eugene Lippincott, county prosecutor; J. E. Russell, Sidney, state prohibition director; John F. Kramer, former federal prohibition director; F. L. Dastman, editor of the American Issue; Judge Don V. Parker, prohibition commissioner; and Jasper Cochran, Spencerville, county representative.

A noon picnic has been suggested for use across the Hudson river at New York.

POLICE FORCE CAN NOT FAVORED

Plan Suggested to Provide for Less Relief Fund.

NO MONEY FOUND AVAILABLE

Conference of City Heads Produces No Results.

A conference held by Mayor Burkhardt and members of the council finance committee in the mayor's office late Wednesday afternoon, to discuss means of providing funds for the immediate assistance of Lima's unemployed, developed nothing definite.

Six funds provided for relief for six months period are exhausted, the city auditor stated. Both the auditor and city solicitor were instructed to begin work to devise some plan whereby a relief fund may be provided to care for the unemployed.

SEES NO RELIEF

H. L. Cable, state inspector from the state accounting department, told members of the committee that he is unable to see where any additional fund can be created to handle the present situation. Cable said that in Portsmouth, a city of approximately the same size as Lima, the police force had been materially reduced and that if such action could be taken here the balance in the police fund would be available for relief work.

The advisability of diminishing the force was not considered favorably as a means of handling the situation here.

Mayor Burkhardt stated Thursday that the committee had found grounds to permit the issuance of bonds to cover the situation. The question of taking the matter with the banks to determine whether or not short term bonds might be issued was discussed.

MANY ARE IN WANT

With the six month fund already exhausted and with no apparent means of creating another immediate fund it seems the city government is up against it in the present crisis.

It was stated at the meeting that there are nearly 400 families who are, or soon will be, in dire need of assistance and that the situation is daily growing more acute, with immediate prospect of the city being able to offer substantial assistance.

Meanwhile, the city auditor and city solicitor are attempting to work out some plan whereby the necessary funds may be forthcoming.

ECONOMY IS BIG TASK FOR U. S.

Return To Pre-War Basis Is Not Expected.

INTEREST ON DEBT GROWS

Military Unite and Railways Call For Billions.

(By H. K. REYNOLDS)
WASHINGTON — (International News Service Staff Correspondent) — Grumbling as he pays his income tax and irritated by the extra cent or two which he pushes across the bar at the soda fountain, Mr. Average citizen occasionally feels the pinch of federal taxation, talks it over with his neighbor and decides that an awful lot of money is needed to keep the government running, but seldom realizes where all dollars that Uncle Sam gathers into his treasury go.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, in his first estimate of the cost of operating the government, figures that about four and a half billion dollars would be required to keep the official wheels of the nation revving during the present fiscal year. The secretary told congress how much the government needed, showed neat rows of figures to prove his deductions, and then the house proceeded to slice there and trim here in accordance with their own ideas of how much money Uncle Sam could get along with—or without.

CHIEFS NEED MONEY
Departmental estimates of expenses are being given the careful "once over" nowadays under the suspicious eye of Charlie Dawes, official watchdog of the public treasury, but bureau chiefs—those who decide how much they need to keep things going—are set in their ways and hard to budge.

The effects of the war when the personnel of many departments increased enormously, are still felt; and, although efforts have been made to return to normal working conditions, it is improbable that the completely reorganized government of pre-war days will ever be restored.

BILLION REQUIRED FOR INTEREST

The biggest single item in Secretary Mellon's list of estimated expenditures for this fiscal year is the interest on the public debt, which is placed at almost a billion dollars, or nearly one-fourth of the total requirements of the government.

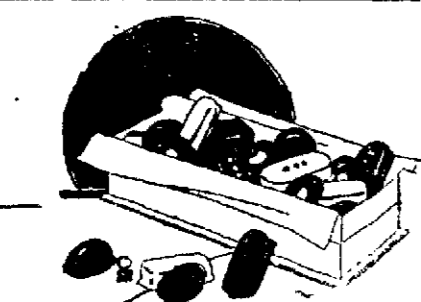

There is to be, it is estimated, an expenditure of $515,206,204 to the railroads under the transportation act of 1923, and $551,354,865 for the retirement of the public debt as required by law. The debt payments include: Sinking fund, $266,754,865; War Savings Securities, $100,000,000; miscellaneous debt, $100,000,000; purchases of Liberty Bonds from foreign repayments, $50,500,000; redemption of bonds and notes from estate taxes, $25,000,000; retirement of Pitman act certificates, $70,000,000; retirement of F. R. B. franchise tax receipts, $80,000,000.

State department, $10,544,000; department of justice, $17,000,000; postoffice department, $22,200,000; interior department, including pensions and Indian claims, $32,000,000; department of agriculture, $123,000,000; department of commerce, $19,922,000; department of labor, $5,262,887; independent offices, $12,484,516; district of Columbia, $22,187,663; miscellaneous, $62,500,000; postal deficiency, $60,000,000; bureau of war risk insurance, $286,000,000; collecting revenue, $53,110,139; all other treasury departments, $89,457,795; federal board for vocational education, $162,655,134; Panama Canal, $10,000,000.

COMPOUNDING OF FELONY CHARGED

Two Are Indicted—Lima Man's Complaint Is Ignored.

WAPAKONETA — (Special.)

Following a recent investigation of vice conditions in St. Marys, Arthur Smith, a resident of that city and George Burton were indicted by the Auglaize co grand jury here on the charge of compounding a felony.

The indictments resulted from investigations made after Burton was formally charged with assaulting Smith's 14-year-old daughter. To make settlement for the alleged wrong inflicted, Burton is said to have transpired Smith some real estate, with the understanding that the matter concerning the girl was a closed incident. Later publicity was thrown upon the matter and the double indictment against the two men followed.

The October term of the grand jury occupied two days, during which 20 cases were investigated and 11 true bills were returned. Other cases were ignored. Forty-six witnesses were examined.

The following were indicted: Goldie McCullen, two counts, obtaining goods falsely and for larceny; Floyd Meritt, two counts, burglary; George Burton, rape; Alfred Bieller, rape; James L. Obeilin, non-support; Whylon Fugh, non-support; Robert Roth, rape; Vernon Shier, non-support and Arthur Smith, compounding a felony.

The cases ignored were: C. M. Sargent, obtaining money falsely; Len Erwin, providing a breach of peace; Jesse Sparlock, assault; Grover Akers, assault and Clayton South, violation of section of statute 12,940.

Smith was charged with having refused to serve Dr. U. S. Beam, a colored physician at Lima, in the Fryer & South restaurant.

ELEVEN MEMBERS OF 54TH HOLD REUNION

Eleven members of companies G and D, 54th O. V. V., accompanied by some half hundred relatives and friends gathered in Memorial Hall Thursday in their 33rd annual reunion. The other nine survivors of the two companies were unable to attend.

Following a lunch served in the basement dining hall by women of the W. R. C., an interesting program was given in the auditorium. Rev. D. N. Kelly of Grace church, offered the opening prayer and said the benediction at the close of the program.

Veterans present Thursday were: George Bowers, L. J. Shockey, Milton Welker, Jesse S. Miller, P. A. Decker, George Connor, A. V. Barton, G. H. Copeland, Thomas Mitchell, Andy Hauenstein and H. Marshall.

TAKEN FOR THEFT OF AUTOMOBILE

Dayton Man Nabbed Here For Stealing Marion Car.

Sam Sealtch, 19, musician, was arrested on N. Main-st Wednesday night by Officer James, charged with the theft of a Marion "chummy roadster" at Dayton.

A description of the car and the license and engine numbers which to the police here by Gen City authorities resulted in the arrest. Sealtch was taken to the police station and is being held pending arrival of an officer from Dayton. Sealtch was arrested here on a previous occasion, on suspicion of stealing an auto, but was released.

A Willis-Knight taken from near Memorial Hall during the boxing show Tuesday night was recovered by Detective Willis Kipter and Officer Joe Reed on Wednesday. The car, property of Carl Roth was found standing in McDonnell-st.

TWO FIRE CALLS TO DRY CLEANER

Static Electricity Blamed—Ford Threatens Blow-up.

Static electricity, little understood by scientists, caused two fires in the dry cleaning plant owned by J. S. Flowers, 407 S. Pierce-st, Thursday.

The first blaze was at 11 a. m., when gasoline vapor inside the cleaner was ignited and burned up part of the apparatus. The fire department was called and the blaze extinguished. Clothing in the cleaner was not damaged.

An hour later gas exploded when the cleaner was opened again. The firemen made a second run to the place and drowned out the fire.

A Ford car in an alley in the rear of 143 E. Market-st threatened to blow up at 7:30 a. m. Thursday when it was cranked. No damage was done. The fire department was called out, but found nothing to do when it arrived.

WORLD'S EYE ON WASHINGTON

Made Capital of All Nations By Arms Parley.

U. S. PLAYS FATEFUL GAME

Hughes is Star Performer for American People.

This is the first of a series of articles by Herbert Quick dealing with the problems and perils of the coming disarmament conference. Quick has made a special study of this subject for the Lima News.

BY HERBERT QUICK

WASHINGTON. — (N. E. A. Service.) — The disarmament conference is no longer a nine-days' wonder. We are getting used to it. All the nations invited—the British Empire, Japan, France, Italy and China—are coming. It will be less than a month when every seeing eye in the world will be fixed on Washington. Washington will be the capital of the world until the Disarmament Conference is over. It will be the capital of the world after the conference adjourns.

The world knows that in calling the conference our government has made a fateful play in the game in which the destiny of the world will be decided for centuries.

AMERICA'S PLAYERS
Hughes is the chief player for us. His associates are Lodge, Root and Underwood. Do they measure up to the stature required of those who cast dice with fate for the destinies of the race?

It is no criticism of them to say that they do not. It is no criticism; for unless they receive wisdom and power and skill and insight and the gift of prophecy with a humble attitude toward their task—in other words, unless God helps them—they will fail. So would any other men.

Supermen are required for a superhuman task, unless they have the genius, like that of Lincoln to make the crooked straight, and to rise above obstacles instead of making ways thru and around them. And Hughes, Lodge, Root and Underwood

SPECIAL WRITER

are not supermen.

WHY THE CONFERENCE

This conference is called upon to remove from the bent back of the peoples the greatest burden it ever carried. The burden of navies and armies is heavier now in peace than it ever was before in war. You feel it, Reader, every time you buy food, shelter or clothing, every time you pay your taxes.

Only seven cents of your dollar that the United States government collects goes to the support of the peaceful work of the nation. The other ninety-three cents goes to support the army and navy—and most of this ninety-three cents goes for past wars.

Give us another war, and a greater debt will be piled on this under which we now groan and sweat—and then, ninety-six or ninety-eight cents out of every hundred will go for wars past and present, and only four or two to the government.

This will mean not only the miseries of war, not only the possibility of defeat and subjugation and the cur of humiliation and bankruptcy thru which Germany is passing, not only the possibility of the ruin from which Russia is dying, but the probability that taxation for past and future wars will break down our national life, make business impossible as we now carry it on, for us and for the rest of the world.

NEED THAT SUCCEEDS
It is for the purpose of trying to stem this current swamping us down to ruin that the Disarmament Conference will meet in Washington November 11th.

Such are the issues at stake, that if this Disarmament Conference does not make for peace it may have the opposite effect.

Either we shall get peace and safety, or there is strong reason to expect that the Disarmament Conference will end in the lineup for the next war.

Every American should see this. Everyone should try to understand it at least a little.

Everyone should sympathetically try to see to it that his little part of public opinion and its utterances shall help to harmony, shall lead on toward understanding and peace.

TRIO ARRAIGNED IN ROBBERY

Preliminary Hearing For Aldrich, Klinger and Stough.

Walter Aldrich, Elvin Klinger and Dale Stough, alleged participants in the robbery of Roger Stough in W. Elm-st September 27, were brought before Judge Emmett Jackson for preliminary hearing Thursday at 1:30 p. m.

Confessions made by the two of the men and later repudiated may form a portion of the city's evidence. Harry May, who pleads guilty when arraigned was among the witnesses subpoenaed. He will tell the story of the alleged plot to rob Roger Stough.

Roger Stough, the man who was robbed, will be a witness also.

Aldrich is under sentence of Mansfield for his part in stealing an automobile from the Cadillac agency.

If found guilty of highway robbery, the state may prefer to send him up on that charge. The penalty for the offense is 10 years flat. It cannot be mitigated by pardon or suspension.

WOMEN FLOCK TO HIGH SCHOOL

Cooking Demonstrations Draw Interest of Many.

WILL BE CLOSED ON FRIDAY

Lima Concerns Help Make News Enterprise a Success.

After being crowded out of the cafeteria by the tremendous crowds that have been attending the Lima News Free Cooking School, Thursday's session was held in the Central High School auditorium. Increase in attendance justified those in charge for the trouble of the move.

Friday afternoon's session will close the school, much to the regret of the hundreds of women who have been regular attendees. Friday's program, which is given in the two-page announcement elsewhere in this issue, promises to be extremely interesting and it is expected that the auditorium will be filled to capacity.

Each day, in addition to the foods served, a number of things are presented free to the visitors. Baskets of groceries are given away. Baskets of Baking Company gives bread each day. Every Day Products Co. has a treat for the women in-home made candies; with Every Day flavors. Large valuable cook books are presented with the compliments of The Lima News on the last day.

CONCERTS GIVEN DAILY

Daily concerts are given with choice records on the Victrola furnished by the Johns Music company.

The auditorium stage is artistically decorated with palms from the Zettitz Flower shop.

Special thanks is extended the White Mountain Creamery company for the excellent ice cream furnished the guests on Thursday.

Mr. Leslie commented strongly on the superior quality of the product.

M. S. Leslie, in charge of the school states that the success of the undertaking is due in great part to the cooperation of the following merchants:

Apex Skirt & Dress Co. for aprons. Model Best Dye from Model Mills. Every Day Products Co. for flavorings. Johns Music Co. for Victrola. Armstrong & Son, for Alcazar range. Hoover-Roush Co. for Champion range. Eernum's for Favorite range. Empire Furniture Co. for Hoosier cabinets. Hoover-Bond Co. for Sellers cabinet. Stolzenbach Baking Co. for bread. Farney's for groceries. Rowlands, for work table. Moore Brothers Co. for canned fruit.

White Mountain Dairy for ice cream and dairy products. Colman Baking Powder. Zettitz, for palms.

THURSDAY WAS CAKE DAY

Chief R. B. Shives demonstrated the making of pumpkin pies, mixing and baking the pies on the stage and using his own recipe, not found in any cook book.

Miss Rose Wattenman demonstrated the making of jelly tarts and cheese straws, making a very large number which were later served to the audience along with a fruit salad and cocktail dressing prepared by Miss Nina Brunsted. Miss Brunsted also demonstrated the making of cream puffs.

Cake baked by Misses Weileuman and Brunsted was served to the women present this afternoon along with a generous portion of ice cream. As an evidence of the work necessary by these excellent cooks in making the cakes to serve this afternoon, it was necessary for them to start baking at 7 o'clock this morning in order to bake the 50 cakes necessary in the serving of 500 people.

Miss Rose Weileuman prepared and baked a Creme Velvet yellow cake and a Lady Baltimore cake, each of these cakes being made from her own recipe which was worked out by herself and which is not found in any cook book. Miss Nina Brunsted demonstrated her potato chocolate cake, which is also made from her own recipe.

Chief Shives gave his recipe for cookies and prepared them before the audience.

Following are the recipes used this afternoon at the school:

POTATO CHOCOLATE CAKE

Sift twice:

2 cups flour

1-1/2 cups sugar

2 teaspoons Baking powder

1 teaspoon Baking soda

1-1/4 teaspoons salt

3-4 teaspoon cloves

1-1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

1-2 cup cocoa

Add: 1 cup of raisins, 1 cup of nut-meats.

Beat 3 egg yolks, add 1 cup of

HOW TO REDUCE VARICOSE VEINS

Many people have become dependent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it at home as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moore's Emerald Oil is very concentrated and a bottle lasts a long time—there's why it is a most inexpensive treatment. It has brought much comfort to worried people all over the country and is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and always bear in mind that anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. N. Y. Four druggists or Hatters' Drug Stores, Thompson's three Drug Stores, Intarurban Drug Store, Public Drug Store can supply you.—Adv.

1 cup of sugar

1 tablespoon Mazola

1 tablespoon White Karo

1 egg white

1 tablespoon of marshmallow

Cook water, sugar, Mazola and Karo over a slow fire until it spins a thread. Beat egg white stiff, add marshmallow and pour syrup over it, beating constantly. Then add 1-2 cup of seedless raisins, 1-2 cup of nutmeats and 8 Marshmallow cherries.

SUGAR COOKIES

1-1/2 cups sugar

1 cup of Mazola

1 teaspoon of salt

1 teaspoon of nutmeg

1 teaspoon of lemon extract.

2 eggs

3 tablespoons canned milk or cream

3 teaspoons Baking powder

Flour enough to roll out

Sugar tips before baking

In addition to the large number of ladies attending the school there are many young girls of the High school who are making the best of the lectures and demonstrations. One small girl said the cooking school helped her with her domestic science lessons, yesterday afternoon as she was leaving the school.

DETECTIVES TO TESTIFY IN THE M'ARDLE CASE

CLEVELAND — Detective Henry Sentt, of the New York police department, and Peter Christensen, former chief of the Lakewood police department, are to be two of the principal witnesses for the state today at the trial of Marian McArdle, charged with first degree murder of Daniel Kaber, her stepfather, two years ago.

Thru their testimony, County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton said he hopes to prove that the twenty-year-old girl not only knew of the plot of her mother, Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, but also assisted in it.

Sentt and Christensen were present when Miss McArdle is alleged to have made a statement in New York implicating her mother and Mrs. Mary Brickel, her sixty-nine year old grandmother. Mrs. Kaber was convicted for her part in the crime. Mrs. Brickel is awaiting trial.

GEORGE KAH ANSWERS SUMMONS OF DEATH

George Kah, 70, of 421 S. Main-st., died Wednesday at 6 p. m. at St. Rita's hospital, following a six months' illness from cancer of the stomach. Deceased was born in Germany, September 9, 1851. Surviving are a son, Charles W. Kah, of Anna, O.; a daughter, Mrs. Harley Soy of Piqua, and 13 grandchildren. Funeral services at the late residence Saturday at 1:30 p. m., the Rev. Paul M. Brozy officiating. Remains will be laid to rest in the mausoleum at Woodlawn cemetery.

RELEASED ON BOND

Charles Her, bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond, in criminal court on a charge of burglary and larceny, obtained his release late Wednesday. Bond was offered by his parents.

EPSOM SALTS LIKE LEMONADE

If you want epsom salts without the awful taste and nausea, ask your druggist for a handy package of Epsomade Salts which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts because it is real epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

Take a tablespoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, headachy or constipated. Epsomade Salts is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association. — Adv.

WESTON AT 82 WILL TRY TO WALK 500 MILES IN SIX DAYS

World Famous Pedestrian Tells Walkers "Carry a Cane."

NEWARK, N. J. — (By N. E. A. Edward Payson Weston, who in his eighty-third year firmly believes he can duplicate his record-breaking feat of 1874, in this city, when he astonished the world by walking 500 miles in a little less than six days.

He's here again today and expects to try the feat in November.

"Can he do it?"

"Well, he's spry and active as tho he was below the half-century mark, and shows no signs either in appearance or action, of being an octogenarian. Tho in his stria erect, with the same stalwart stride that has made him famous the last 50 years.

"Does he look his age?"

No, he looks his white hair and long mustache.

Weston doesn't smoke, or drink liquor, eats three meals a day, and makes temperance in everything his slogan.

HIS PRINCIPAL MEAL

Breakfast, in the walker's principal meal. It usually consists of rolled oats, eggs, bread and butter and two cups of coffee.

He doesn't believe in medicine of any kind. Salt and water mixed is his favorite remedy for throat and other ordinary ills.

He boasts of having had no serious illness since 1870, and ascribes his good health to the exercise of walking and leading "a simple, but vigorous life."

Just now he is doing some lecturing about New York. He wants to collect enough money to finish payment of a $10,000 debt contracted on his last cross-country hike, declaring he wishes to face his Maker with a clean slate.

TIP TO WALKERS

Weston says all walkers should carry a cane staff or swagger stick. For it helps to keep one's mind off the strain, and keeps swelling out of the hands, so frequently encountered when the hands are allowed to swing at the sides for long periods.

At present he carries a cane given to him by the Duke of Richmond. This he has carried 68,000 miles out of the 85,000 miles he has walked in his life.

HIS GREATEST FEAT

He regards as his greatest feat his 500-mile walk against time in old Industrial Hall in Newark in 1874. This he completed in 22 minutes short of six days.

Thousands of dollars were wagered for and against him, the majority saying he couldn't do it. Feeling became so intense near the finish that Weston's life was threatened as he walked.

The chief of police with drawn revolver took place by his side, surrounded the walker by a cordon of detectives, and thus Weston finished the last five miles amid much excitement.

AMERICA'S ARMS CAN EXCEL ALL

U. S., if Necessary, Able to Out-build Other Powers.

RESOURCES THE GREATEST

Interesting Figures on Subject Are Given Out.

(By ALBERT APPLE)

CLEVELAND. — (N. E. A. Service.) — If the disarmament conference fails and the world settles down to an armament race, the United States can outbuild any foreign country — or all of them.

This is shown by statistics of the leading countries' natural resources, compared with their present national debts.

These statistics, illustrated in the accompanying diagram, are furnished by Col. Leonard P. Ayres, chief of the statistics branch of the general staff of the United States army. In private life, Ayres is vice president of the Cleveland Trust Company and internationally famous as an authority on economics, OUR HUGE RESOURCES

Combined national debts of the world totaled $35,069,000,000 in 1914. They have increased to $293,651,000,000.

National debt of the United States is nearly $24,000,000,000. Subtracting that from our national wealth leaves $196,000,000,000 as Uncle Sam's potential war strength.

Now take Japan, United Kingdom

Italy, France and Germany. Their combined excess of national wealth over debts is only $173,000,000,000.

Thus we have an unmortgaged wealth sufficient to outbuild those five countries in navies and armies. OUR REAL WEAPON

America still has credit. The credit of foreign countries is very low, compared with ours.

How about the individual American's ability to finance armaments, as shown by his average income, compared with other nations?

Annual income of the average person in 1914 was:

United States	$340
United Kingdom	$243
Germany	$146
France	$132
Italy	$112
Austria-Hungary	$102
Spain	$54
Australia	$263
Canada	$195
Japan	$23

While the above figures are for 1914, and have changed since then, economists say their relative standing still holds. If anything, our lead over other countries is even greater.

INGROWN NAIL

Toe Nail Turns Out If You Toughen Skin.

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation, and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions. — Adv.

DISARMING PLAN IS OPPOSED

Two Speak Against It At Red Cross Convention.

FOR STRONG ARMY, NAVY

News in Brief Picked Up From Ohio Cities.

COLUMBUS. — (By Associated Press.)—Maintenance of an efficient army and navy as against total disarmament were urged by Major General John A. Lejeune, commander of the United States marine corps, and Robert G. Woodside, commander-in-chief of the Veterans Foreign Wars, in addresses at the convention of the American Red Cross last night. Hope for everlasting peace, however, was voiced by these military men, who asserted no one hates war as much as those who have been thru it.

"Service to humanity—service to those who need service—helps lift up those who are served but lifts up the nation," such is the conception of the program of the organization as outlined up by John Barton Payne, newly appointed chairman of the central committee of the American Red Cross in his first appearance as the active head of the organization.

National Commander John G. Emery of the American Legion said the American people owe one hundred percent obligation to the service men.

Reasons of overseas and home war workers will feature today's sessions. Operations abroad will be outlined by Dr. A. Ross Hill, vice chairman in charge of foreign operations, at the afternoon session.

Charles R. Crane, former ambassador to China, will tell of the line of Red Cross service to suffering foreign peoples.

McANNON CONVICTED. CLEVELAND — William M. McAnnon, former chief justice of municipal court twice acquitted of the murder of Harold C. King, under sentence for perjury, was found guilty of contempt of court and obstruction of justice. Opportunity to file an appeal within three days is given before passing sentence.

SENT TO PRISON. COLUMBUS — Robert McHenry, 36, who obtained eleven cents when he burglarized the home of Michael Connelley here last May, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the penitentiary.

WILL BUILD ROAD. BELLAIRE — Governor Davis promised an audience of Belmont citizens that construction of the first Liverpool to Marietta highway along the Ohio river will be started within 30 days.

TWO KILLED. CINCINNATI — Margaret Crane, 15, and Florence Edgeworth, 15, were killed when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a concrete wall and overturned. No one witnessed the accident.

DIVORCE AT ST. MARYS. ST. MARYS — Mrs. Mary Jane Ferris, 64, died at the family home here Wednesday, from heart trouble. She is survived by four children, William, Ralph and Abner, and this city and Mrs. F. W. Langhorst of Hopkinton. Deceased was a resident here 27 years. Her husband was accidentally killed in 1920. Funeral services for Mrs. Ferris will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock, from Holy Rosary church.

A RUSSIAN CONTRAST—MOSCOW AND THE "DEATH BELT"

MONEY—ENOUGH MONEY—will now buy almost anything in Moscow, seat of the Bolshevik government, while throughout the country millions are starving. Equality? The contrasts of Russia today are graphically shown by these pictures which have just reached America. Above, the start of a trotting race on the Moscow track, and below—

THE DISTINGUISHED CROWD in the grandstand, watching the race—men high in the government. In the white coats with panama hats is Gen. Broussiloff, former commander in chief of the czar's armies, now general of remnants in the Red Army. Contrast these with—

A COMMON SCENE in the "famine belt" of Russia. Parents are carrying to the burial ground the bodies of seven Russian babies who died of starvation. A soldier guards the procession. Two sticks, with blanket hung between, form the coffins.

GRASS FIRE. Grass fire near the city limits on West-st was the cause of an alarm being sent in to the department at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

DISARMING PLAN IS OPPOSED

Two Speak Against It At Red Cross Convention.

FOR STRONG ARMY, NAVY

News in Brief Picked Up From Ohio Cities.

COLUMBUS. — (By Associated Press) — Maintenance of an efficient army and navy as against total disarmament were urged by Major General John A. Lefebvre, commander of the United States marine corps, and Robert G. Woodside, commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, in addresses at the convention of the American Red Cross last night. However, for overlast night, however, was voiced by both these military men, who asserted that no one hates war as much as those who have been thru it.

"Service to humanity—service to those who need service. It not only helps those who are served but lifts us up. That is the basis of the Red Cross." Such is the conception of the program of the organization as summed up by John Barton Payne, newly appointed chairman of the central committee of the American Red Cross in his first appearance as the active head of the organization. Captain Commander John G. Emery of the American Legion said the American people owe one hundred per cent obligation to the service men.

Remuneration of overseas and home base workers will feature today's sessions. Operations abroad will be outlined by Dr. A. Ross Hill, vice chairman in charge of foreign operations, at the afternoon session. Mr. Charles R. Crane, former ambassador to China, will tell of the value of Red Cross service to suffering foreign peoples.

McGANNON CONVICTED.

CLEVELAND — William M. McGannon, former chief justice of municipal court, twice acquitted of the murder of Harold C. Kagy, under sentence for perjury, was found guilty of contempt of court and obstruction of justice. Opportunity to file an appeal within three days was given before passing sentence.

SENT TO PRISON.

COLUMBUS — Robert McHenry, 36, who obtained eleven cents when he burglarized the home of Michael Connelley here last May, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the penitentiary.

WILL BUILD ROAD.

BELLAIRE. — Governor Davis promised an audience of Belmont citizens that construction of the East Liverpool to Marietta highway along the Ohio river will be started within 30 days.

TWO KILLED.

CINCINNATI. — Margaret Crane, 15 and Florence Edgeworth, 15, were killed when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a concrete wall and overturned. No one witnessed the accident.

DEATH AT ST. MARYS.

ST. MARYS — Mrs. Mary Jane Peters, 69, died at the family home here Wednesday, from heart trouble. She is survived by four children, William, Ralph and Abner, and Mrs. F. W. Langhorst of Wapakoneta. Deceased was a resident here 27 years. Her husband was accidentally killed in 1920. Funeral services for Mrs. Peters will be held Friday morning at 8 o'clock, from Holy Rosary church.

In The Grip Of A Man's Hand— You Find Strength or Weakness— What Does Your Grip Show?

Have you the firm, forceful power of a man whose blood is rich in iron—the kind that inspires confidence and wins success—or have you the feeble, hesitating clasp of a weakling, whose blood needs iron? Nuxated Iron builds strong, keen, red-blooded men and women.

If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to start taking Nuxated Iron today and watch its strengthening, upbuilding effect. In two weeks' time see for yourself what sort of a change has taken place in the grip of your hand and the amount of strength and endurance you possess.

A RUSSIAN CONTRAST—MOSCOW AND THE "DEATH BELT"

MONEY—ENOUGH MONEY—will now buy almost anything in Moscow, seat of the Bolshevik government, while throughout the country millions are starving. Equality? The contrasts of Russia today are graphically shown by these pictures which have just reached America. Above, the start of a trotting race on the Moscow track, and below—

THE DISTINGUISHED CROWD in the grandstand, watching the race—men high in the government. In the white clothes with panama hat is Gen. Broussiloff, former commander in chief of the czar's armies, now general of remounts in the Red Army. Contrast these with—

A COMMON SCENE in the "famine belt" of Russia. Parents are carrying to the burial ground the bodies of seven Russian babies who died of starvation. A soldier guards the procession. Two sticks, blanket hung between, form the coffin.

HONORS MUNCIE VISITOR

COMPLIMENTING HER house guest, Mrs. Frank H. Grey, of Muncie, Ind., Mrs. Everett Furnas, of W. Market-st., welcomed a coterie of friends for an attractively arranged bridge party, Thursday afternoon. Chrysanthemums and other flowers, which have begun to answer the call of autumn added a pleasing tone to the rooms.

Following the afternoon of play, a dainty luncheon was served. Thrift in the appointments, a color scheme of yellow and white prevailed.

Mrs. Furnas' guests included Mrs. Frank Moke, Mrs. Oliver Steiner, Mrs. Benjamin F. Thomas, Mrs. H. O. Bentley, Mrs. Merton Sealts, Mrs. Frank Steiner, Mrs. John Calvin, Mrs. J. B. Poling, Mrs. W. A. Gough, of London, Can.; Mrs. Charles Gamble, Mrs. E. J. Cuttiss, Mrs. Henry Delsel, Sr., Mrs. Harry W. Fenton, Mrs. A. H. Clegg, Miss Nettie Doyell and the honor guest.

Honoring Mrs. Grey, Mrs. R. B. Tolan is entertaining with a 1 o'clock luncheon at her home, Friday.

The woman's music club certainly deserves much praise for bringing unusual and artistic companies to our city each season, giving the associate members and other music lovers an opportunity to have a taste of some treats enjoyed by people in New York and Chicago.

Wednesday evening a delighted audience filled every seat even down to the orchestra for the opera "The Secret of Suzanne" presented by The Little Opera Company under the auspices of the Woman's Music club. The warm appreciation of the audience was shown by its hearty encores for all know a little folly now and then is relished by a host of men and women. A few may have been shocked by the seeming brevity of the costumes, others by the "secret" in the opera, but in the whole one heard comments upon its cleverness, its freedom from suggestions, its wholesome fun and its bewitching music.

The stage of Memorial hall is one most difficult to arrange artistically but its possibilities again were shown by Charles Tyler, the artistic director, who had concealed objectionable features by the use of soft draperies giving the effect of blue and grey clouds above and around, making an ideal background for the dancers and the charming little opera with its foreign air.

The pretty dancers, Della Nichols, Grace Carson and Clara Niles were delightful culture girls, such as make up Ruth St. Denis' school in Los Angeles. They were "bubbling over" with merriment and delight in pleasing their audience and the world in general. Miss Nichols, one of the class in the Denis Shaw school was with Marjorie Henderson Carner, of this city, last year.

The opening dance was "The Rose," with clouds of pink chiffon, transforming the scene into one filled with summer beauty, the dancer being most winsome and sweet.

"The Golly wog," one of the fantastic creations for children of today, was irresistibly funny, the dancer wearing a frog like costume.

"The Nautch Dance" was most artistically done in a lavishing costume with Balcke designs and a golden bedie.

"Mariska" was another dainty dance. "The Hungarian" was the embodiment of Gypsy life with its abandon and freedom from conventionality, the Balcke design being especially wonderful in this, worn as it was over a garment known as "Fleshings" giving the wearer ease of movement.

"The Poppy" dance brought rounds of applause, the costume being in all the gorgeous shades of the oriental poppy, the great circular draperies being a masterpiece of Balcke work edged with the darkest bluish tulle lace work, merging into gold and scarlet. As Miss Nichols danced this enveloped her until she became a living poppy full of warmth and beauty.

In striking contrast was the very modern "Valse Blue" the costume being a lovely French blue and the dancer the embodiment of the beautiful valse correctly danced.

"The March of the Dwarfs" was a fitting climax, all three interpreting Greig's weird music most mischievously in cunning costumes in which one enjoys seeing them pictured.

In the school of dancing in which this charming group is included, the students are taught not only to build their bodies but also to design, dye, paint and make costumes fitted to each dance, which in turn is created to interpret classic music, making it comprehensible to even those who have never studied music.

"The Secret of Suzanne" company is under direction of Kingsberry Foster, of New York City, who staged the great missionary pageant "The Wayfarer," for the Methodist church last year in Columbus and later on in New York City. His company last night was composed of some of the players in "The Wayfarers" and are artists of high rank. William Tucker having a glorious voice, adapted well to depicting the ardent lover, the jealous husband and the willing slave.

Dorothy Seegar is a young woman of charming personality with a lovely voice.

The opera is one of the very few written that is not filled with intrigue and unpleasantness of various kinds. It depicts the lonely little wife of the clubman, aided by a mute man servant, Charles Triel, who finds solace of evenings in smoking cigarettes, a vice unknown to her husband, who searches night after night for evidence of some intruder, who let an elusive trail off—only a scent. Finally on discovering his wife to be the culprit, he is relieved and vows they shall henceforth smoke together.

"The music is a classic by Wolf-Ferrari and by far the finest of its kind ever given here, there being only a piano, a violin and a cello, each played by artists who afforded enchanting melodies.

This little company is much in demand in college towns and is to play Thursday evening in Athens at the Ohio University. Friday night at Oxford they play a return engagement for the three colleges, Miami University, Women's College and Western the latter being one attended by Miss Seegar before she studied for opera.

The opera given was one that has been popular with the greatest artists of the Metropolitan in New York City. Wednesday was its first presentation by this interesting group.

Morey circle of King's Daughters met with Mrs. Benjamin F. Thomas, of State-st., all day Wednesday with Mrs. E. N. Zellitz, Mrs. Francis Duhon, Mrs. A. L. Jones and Miss Katherine Reilly as assistant hostesses. At noon luncheon was enjoyed.

Subjects of a business nature occupied the entire day. The circle still continue to assist all the local churches as has been customary for years. A bridge party will be given at the suburban home of Mrs. E. N. Zellitz, Wednesday, October 26, with the following committee in charge: Mrs. Ralph Leete, chairman, Mrs. Carl Fletcher, Mrs. Clinton Sealts and Mrs. Oliver Steiner. Reservations may be made at any time. Mrs. Harry Harper, Jr., official delegate to the King's Daughters conference, gave an account of the assembly held in June at Ada. Mrs. Albert Jensen, of Toledo, was the only guest. Mrs. Mack Cole was received again into the circle after a year's stay in California.

A moving will be held with Mrs. Kent Hughes of Lakewood-ave., Wednesday, November 2nd, with Mrs. B. A. Gramm, Mrs. Chalmers Brown and Mrs. C. E. Schell as assistant hostesses.

Miss Dye and daughter Mrs. Allene, of Columbus Grove, were in attendance at "The Secret of Suzanne" at Memorial Hall Wednesday evening. Miss Day having been a classmate of Miss Dorothy Seegar at Western College, Oxford. Miss Seegar appeared in the opera.

Art Study club will hold a business meeting Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. William R. Daniels, of 502 W. North-st.

Mrs. Albert Jensen returned to her home in Toledo after a short visit with Mrs. E. A. Williams, Jr., of S. Cole-st.

Mrs. and Mrs. R. O. Bagley and daughter, Miss Nellie, of W. Market-st., are home from a visit in Delaware, O.

Home Economics committee of the City Federation of Women's clubs will meet with Mrs. G. A. Herrett, of 115 S. Elizabeth-st. Saturday at 2 p. m.

Miss Katherine Reilly, of Mrs. L. Shonts, left Wednesday for Detroit before returning to her home after an extended visit with her aunt, the Misses Reilly, of W. Market-st.

A. A. R. I. R. will meet Thursday evening in St. Rose auditorium.

FAMOUS FOR FINE FOODS

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK: — Youth demands its toll on Fashion's highway. Little girls are — if they are truly feminine—quite as interested in their clothes as their grown-up sisters.

A fashion beloved of the small girl is the simple frock of pin-rose pussy willow. Its big collar is edged with points and this trimming edges the two bands on the skirt. The front panel is also edged in points and the sleeves, which are slashed, are outlined with the same effect. Satin binds the long pockets on the side.

Another dress-up gown for the small miss is of pink willow of the wisp. It is a real party frock for a 12-year-old and is sleeveless with low neck. Drapes accentuate the gracefulness of the skirt and the girl is caught with a big rosette.

Miss Eulalia Messick, of Hazel-ave. entertained a few friends at her home, Wednesday. The evening was enjoyed in music and dancing after which a dainty luncheon was served.

Present included Misses Lena and Vera Jewel, Corsetta Reese, Evelyn Schoonover, Elleen Mahoney, Margaret Crowl, Peg Eckert, Ruth and Mable Crab; Messrs. Warren Basinger, Douglas Andrews, Francis Clark, Weldon Evans, Foster Fields, Richard Judkins, Robert Fritz, Harry Strauburg and Glean Johnson.

Members of the Sunshine Class of Zion Lutheran church met with Miss Ruth Betz, of S. Elizabeth-st., Wednesday. The evening was devoted to charity work and various games and at a late hour a delicious lunch was served.

Members present included Misses Louise Moore, Mildred Kanauel, Bertha Ruhlman, Catharine Baxter, Ruth Betz, and the teacher, Mrs. Bridgewater. Guests included Misses Marie Weller, Elsie Deken and Ruth Grise.

Next meeting will be held with Mrs. Kanauel, October 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Berger, of New Haven, Conn., are guests at the home of Mrs. Berger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neff, of W. North-st.

HIS NOON MEAL

(By SISTER MARY)

The colder the weather the heartier food a man needs. He who must carry his dinner during the winter months will appreciate a bottle of hot soup, substantial sandwiches and a generous dessert. Starch and sugar are quick energy-producing foods and the proportion should be increased in the winter dinner pail. Muscle building foods must of course form a large part of the dinner and minerals must be introduced in fruits.

During the cold weather fill the thermos bottle with a nourishing soup. It will do more toward keeping a man working man fit than coffee. Split pea soup, dried bean soup, potato soup, any heavy cream soup should prove acceptable.

These menus are well balanced and practical.

Split pea soup, ground beef and tomato catsup sandwiches, 1½ bread and peanut butter sandwiches, chocolate cake, apples.

Dried bean soup, pork sandwiches, onion sandwiches, baked apple with split milk, doughnuts.

SPLIT PEAS SOUP
One cup dried split peas, 2 quarts cold water, 1-2 onion, 1 teaspoon sugar, 3 tablespoons bacon fat, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups milk.

Pick over peas and wash through several waters. Soak over night in water to cover. Drain and put in cold water with the sugar and onion. Simmer three or four hours until soft. Melt bacon fat, stir in flour and add milk gradually. Rub the cooked peas through a sieve and add to the white sauce. The pea puree should be quite thin. Add more milk if the soup is too thick. The pea puree may be prepared and kept on ice for a day or two.

The sandwiches in the first menu are made of left over cooked beef, ground and moistened with catsup.

DRIED BEAN SOUP
One cup dried beans, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, dash mustard, 2 tablespoons butter, milk.

Pick over the wash beans. Soak over night in cold water to cover. Drain and put in kettle. Pour over cold water to cover and add 1-4 teaspoon soda. Bring to the boiling point and boil five minutes. Drain, and rinse well in cold water. Put on to cook in about 2 quarts of cold water. Cook slowly until beans are very tender. Rub through a sieve, add sugar, salt, butter, dash of mustard and pepper. Reheat with enough milk to make of creamy consistency.

LETTERS TO LOVERS

By WINONA WILCOX
FOUR ODD PROBLEMS

Can a girl of eighteen find happiness with a widower of thirty-five, who has five children? I have worked in his office, I know him well, he is delightful.

Maybe—but the happiness of the girl of eighteen isn't the big question in such a marriage. What's to become of the happiness of the five little ones?

Unless the girl so loves the man that she ardently desires to mother his children she certainly isn't fitted to enter his home.

A man can have a succession of satisfactory wives. Children can have but one father. A girl lacking the maternal instinct can make more unhappiness for those babies in six months than the father alone can manufacture in a lifetime.

Running away from it is not always the best way of ending an emotional struggle.

"I love my employer, a married man who does not suspect my feelings. I am not capable of holding many positions. Is it my duty to give up this one? The man is a gentleman—and I have some sense."

When the girl feels her wisdom is weakening, then will be the time to change her position. A real gentleman is apt to be obtuse in such a case. He often lacks egotism, therefore fails to suspect that he has become the central figure of a romance. He may be trusted to remain thus impersonal as long as the girl cherishes that unusual quality of a woman in love—"some sense."

"My husband warns me not to be so jealous. I can't bear to have him speak to another girl," writes A. YOUNG WIFE. "He tells me that I will destroy our happiness. If he loves me, how can that be?"

For the sake of peace, the man may become evasive and at length unwillingly deceitful. The totem of hypocrisy is steep, once a husband receives an impetus from the nagging tongue of jealousy.

"Get work to do." This is the complete cure for 75 per cent of woman's mental ailments. The other 25 per cent is caused by overwork, for which rest is the obvious remedy.

A girl, twenty-five, who has just lost her fiance to a high school graduate, says: "I am sick and tired of life. How can I get this out of my mind?"

Good health and charm, good cheer and good nature accrue to those who work the hardest, as hundreds of business women have proved in their own experiences. Not by dreaming and repining, nor by moping and wishing, can the hurts of love be cured. "Get work to do."

FRENCH CREAM

Take the whites of any desired number of eggs and an equal quantity of cold water or milk. Stir in confectioner's sugar to make a stiff smooth paste. Form in fancy shapes and put on waxed paper to dry. This is a suitable fondant for bonbons or chocolate drops, since it is the kind used in the most costly French creams.

THICKENING

Sauces and soups are frequently made lumpy by the manner in which starch or cold liquid thickening is added. Unless this is carefully done the thickening goes to the bottom. Holding the container of thickening in the left hand, stir the soup or sauce from the bottom of the pan while you add the cold liquid very slowly.

WHO'S CHAMPION CAKE BAKER?

MR. AND MRS. BRILL

EMPORIA, Kan. — (By N. E. A.) — Ordinarily, A. H. Brill is a brakeman on the Santa Fe railroad, working out of Emporia. But recently he turned pastry expert and baked the cake which took the prize at the state fair at Topeka.

Mrs. Brill started the thing with

PRIZE CAKE

This is the recipe by which A. H. Brill, railroad brakeman, baked his prize angel food cake: One and one-half cups of sugar, 1 cup cake flour, 1-2 cups of white of eggs, 1 level teaspoon of cream of tartar.

Flavor with vanilla.

MIXTURE — Beat eggs until foaming. Then add cream of tartar, then sugar, then flour.

Bake 45 minutes, slow fire for first 15 minutes, then increase the heat gradually for 20 minutes and have a real hot fire the last ten minutes.

the announcement that she intended entering one of her angel food cakes in the fair competition.

"You're a good cake baker, all right, but I can beat you, and not half try," said her husband.

Mr. Brill took first prize and his wife took second.

AIR

Cakes, bread and pastry need air in their composition. Thus, when you mix them, beat the materials instead of stirring them. Stirring is a slower movement which stays more with the pan, while beating lifts a portion of the mixture up in the container and takes a certain amount of air back with it.

RIDDLES

(By IRVING BACHELLER)

Riddles was shown to a little room over the woodshed. Its furniture included a chair, a strip of carpet, a bed, a wash-stand with bowl, pitcher, soap and towel and a battered chiffonier, but the room and the furniture were clean, the bed fairly comfortable. Riddles, being weary, had a night of unbroken sleep. He missed his tub in the morning, but made out very well with a sort of cold water. He had seen told to see Mr. Cawkins, the superintendent, at six a. m., but at that hour no feet were stirring on the place save those of the late Mr. Riddles. After some twenty minutes of looking around he met a tall, tank, middle-aged man in blue overalls coming out of the barn, and asked:

"Is your name Cawkins?" The man looked at Riddles and rubbed his long nose with a red handkerchief. Then he rubbed his bright, dark mustache, while his keen gray eyes surveyed the figure of the new man.

"Yes sir—that sounds like my name," he answered. "I was told to see you at six o'clock, but you were not in sight at that hour," said Riddles. "You may call me Reuben Smith." "Say, that six o'clock business is like everything else here—a joke," Cawkins declared in a low tone. "The breakfast hour is supposed to be six-thirty. It's that now and not a girl out of bed. Be you another patient?"

"What do you mean?" Riddles asked.

"Why, this is the darnedest place I ever see in my life," Cawkins explained in confidential tone. "It ain't a farm, it's a kind of a health resort. Plenty of amusement and lots of sleep an' good pay. The patients give me ten per cent of their wages, an' I kind o' look after 'em—do what I can for their comfort. We all go out to a dance or a picnic every night an', of course, we make sleep while the sun shines—tacks of it. Ain't that a cinch?"

"Movie shows? Where do you find 'em?" Riddles asked.

"Out to the village—four miles from here. That's nothing when you have some Maggie lotters an' the right to use 'em."

"What do you do for exercise?" Riddles asked.

"Everything, but work. How are you going to work for anybody that don't know what work is?"

"I suppose it would be possible to show 'em what it is like an' git 'em gradually used to it," Riddles answered.

"But what's the sense in sportin' a good thing?" said Cawkins. "She's satisfied. She's even talkin' o' puttin' in a pool-table an' a tennis court for the help."

"Well, we know if I wanted to be a fool, I wouldn't need any hired men to help me," said Riddles.

Again Cawkins laughed. "Say, she's a soft-hearted, lady agriculturist born in a marble palace in the full of the moon. She's the leading sleeper in this valley. Off somewhere every night. Has her breakfast in bed an' sleeps till one o'clock every day. Never discharges anybody. When I first came here I tried to work. I was goin' to discharge the lotters and get some good help. She wouldn't stand for it. Too soft-hearted. She's spoilt all the servants in the neighborhood. Everybody's help is about like ours. They rest thru the day and work most of the night."

"It's a new kind of a school," said Riddles. "I suppose Mrs. Martin can afford it."

"That's just what worries us—"

"They've come an' grabbed the hills an' valley an' shoved a lot o' roots into the air," the clerk answered as he lighted his cigar. "We git all their trade."

"An' party good prices," Riddles suggested.

"Anything we want to ask—the sky is the limit. They don't spend money, they just shovel it out—like unloadin' a ton o' coal. It's done by hired men—there's so much of it to handle."

"Kind o' heavy work."

"Well, ye see, they don't bother with the marketin'—haven't time. Generally it's the cook or the butler or the housekeeper or the superintendent, an' the bigger the bill the better they like it."

"Of course, they get a rake-off."

"Most of 'em! They git theirs, in cash, too, according to the amount o' the bill an' sometimes we have to wait a year for our money an' plenty often we git beat out of it. The swell guys hate to give it up. Sometimes, when they pay you, you can hear their shrieks for a mile."

Riddles laughed.

"I don't know as I blame 'em," the clerk went on. "They've been bled an' they know it—the poor suckers! But it's hard on the poor devils, like me, that's workin' for a salary. The plumber soaked me plenty for a job he done up at the house. The rich guys will pay him anything he asks an' I have to pay the same."

"How is the rich guy to help himself?" Riddles asked.

"You fellows fix yer price an' he has to pay. You make the rich man holler, but you break the backs o' the poor."

"The rich are so foolish—they pay more'n they need to," the clerk went on. "Now you take that woman you're workin' for. She's a real nice woman. It's a pleasure to wait on her, but she don't come in here more'n twice in a summer. If she did her own buyin' and used judgment about it, she'd save a lot. The girl comes in every week or so. Say, she's a peach! The best looker in the whole bunch an' talks just like a human bein' an' funny—say, I'd rather talk with her ten minutes than see Charlie Chaplin."

"I wonder why she don't get married," said Riddles.

"Well, sir, I guess she's hard to please. That girl ought to have a real man an' they're all at work these days, all except all Waters' boy, Percy. He's just foolin' around here in the country, but he ain't got no show with her."

"Why?"

"Little tin god! Knows it all an' then some more! Nobody likes him. Killed a cow with his big pacin' car the other night an' slammed himself into a ditch an' busted a front wheel. Had a woman with a starched face in with him—a kind of a high stepper from New York, whose husband is in the army an' hasn't got home yet. Hank Thompson picked 'em up and brought 'em to Brown's drug-store. They said Percy was half drunk. Only had a few scratches; but she had to go to the hospital. His father paid for the cow and gave Hank twenty dollars to keep his tongue still."

(To Be Continued)

A small, toothy scamp has been invented to make berry picking easier and faster.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLAS PHILLIPS

CHERRY FIGHTS ALONE

For once Cherry did not go to her friend Laura King with her troubles. The girl instinctively felt that this was an issue she alone could settle. There were times when even the beloved Miss Laura could do nothing. Late that night found Cherry burning the midnight oil in the peaceful solitude of her room. Seated before a table, with Ned's letters strewn upon it, she read over and over his avowals of devotion until the tears made her put them aside.

There was one fact that stood out large in Cherry's mind thru all her analysis of their married life, namely, that she and Ned had made a false start. Conditions and circumstances had been dead against them and their mutual love and faith from the beginning. It was this fact that must be dealt with and destroyed.

Had they had their own home there would have been fewer misunderstandings. Of this she was certain. Too many people around them had brought trouble and alone, they would have had their own to their glorious romance. Little grievances, of course, as all young couples do, but these could have been so easily adjusted.

By midnight Cherry had weighed all the pros and cons in the case and decided on a drastic line of action. She was going to hide her time and go about the cure in her own way, of the results the brave little wife was sure in her own heart. She was infinitely glad, too, that she had not consulted with anyone, but had fought the thing out for herself in her own way. It seemed fairer to herself and Ned, somehow.

It was a bright-eyed Cherry that went off to work the next morning. She felt like a girl brimming over with the joy of life, hope and something, some secret way down within her, which seemed her to break into dreamy smiles every now and then. Her heart sang a psalm of joy and the absent Ned was uppermost in her mind all day.

Beth Wilders dropped in to see her at lunch time, and Cherry and she walked back to the Wilders house and had a cosy lunch together, over which they settled many vexing questions.

"I really believe that Dick begins

Now I just put the clothes to soak before breakfast and rinse them out when the dishes are done —

THIS is what one experienced housewife writes about doing her regular weekly wash with the marvelous new soap product, Rinso. Until recently she always made an all-day job of washing, rubbing her clothes for hours to get the dirt out. Now that she soaks them clean she says Rinso actually saves about five hours of work each washday.

Hundreds of thousands of women are finding that Rinso takes all the hardest work out of washday. Some of them put the clothes to soak the night before and rinse them out in the morning. Others find it easier to soak for a few hours during the day. All of them say they don't have to rub any but the most soiled spots and those only lightly. Rinso loosens every particle of dirt from even the heaviest pieces without injuring a single fabric.

Don't rub your youth away. Get a package of Rinso today from your grocer or any department store. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Dissolve

For each tub of clothes thoroughly dissolve a half package of Rinso in two quarts of boiling water. Where water is hard or clothes extra dirty use more Rinso.

Pour into tub

of lukewarm water—mix well. Keep adding the solution until you get a good, rich, foamy suds, even after the clothes have been put in.

Then let your clothes soak—and rinse without any hard rubbing—

Soak one hour—two hours—overnight—whatever time is convenient. These wonderful, mild suds loosen every particle of dirt. Rinse to remove the loosened dirt, till the water runs clear.

Rinso

Made in U. S. A.

Perfect in Washing Machines

Follow the simple directions given above. After adding the clothes, bring them into machine full of hot water to which has been added enough fresh Rinso solution to make a good suds. Operate machine and rinse clothes. No other soap product is needed when Rinso is used.

SPECIAL WIRE TELLS MATTY OF GAMES

NEW YORK — A special wire from the Polo grounds is carrying details of the big series to Christy Mathewson at his Saranac Lake home.

Unable to attend the contests, the former Giant pitching star, who once twirled his team to three shutout victories in one world's series, listened attentively as Carl Mays of the Yankees turned back the Giants scoreless, inning after inning. The wire was installed by the Giant management.

Before the contest yesterday, Manager McGraw called Mathewson on the telephone to say that he was never more confident of victory. "I hope to be well enough to see the next series," Matty said, "and I feel confident you will bring home the bacon."

He plans to replace any man who shows signs of tiring during the game. With many men of about equal calibre, he can make changes without necessarily weakening the team.

Ohio State scored 27 points against Oberlin in last year's contest.

Blair Injured

COLUMBUS — "Red" Blair, plunging halfback on Ohio State University's football eleven in the cripple list and according to attending physicians is likely to remain there until the Minnesota game. He is in a local hospital.

He came to grief yesterday while the varsity was scrimmaging against the freshmen. The nature of his injuries was not made known.

Work To Win

WESTERVILLE — Not damaged by the 14-13 loss to Wilmington last Saturday, the Oberlin football squad is working all the harder in hopes of a win over Ashland College this weekend.

Coach Dimer continues shifting his men. Halfback Anderson and Stiltz are being tried at ends. Coach Pedren is still nursing minor injuries.

GIANTS ARE DETERMINED TO BLOCK YANKEES

NOT DISCOURAGED AFTER LOSING FIRST GAME

"We are on our way and we won't be stopped"—Manager Huggins of the Yankees.

"We are going to win. I feel confident of that."—Manager McGraw of the Giants.

NEW YORK — The Yanks entered the second game of the world series today with a brand new reputation to sustain—greased lightning with brains.

Until they flashed their spectacular win over the Giants in yesterday's opener, Huggins' men had been classified as a ponderous, slow-moving, turgid thinking outfit with but two virtues, ability to "crash the old apple," and Carl Mays.

The Giants played them for just that sort of steam roller and the steam roller turned into a racing car without missing a stroke. The Yanks probably never played a headier or speedier offensive game in their lives. Their defense was flawless.

Cone was the slashing, tearing attack that had carried them to the American League championship. Gone was the system of forcing runners around the lines by sheer power of base hits. The hit and run was replaced by the safe and sane sacrifice, the extra base watlop by the well-placed single and how those Yanks ran bases.

The Giants were at the great disadvantage today of not knowing what to expect. They had their plans all laid yesterday to meet certain conditions and those conditions didn't exist.

The Giants, however, did not appear at all discouraged by their initial defeat and were prepared to enter Fresh Stadium today with more determination than ever to even up the world's series by winning the second game. They pointed out that they came from behind in the league race and that the same grim fighting spirit would carry them through this time.

The Giants, however, did not appear at all discouraged by their initial defeat and were prepared to enter Fresh Stadium today with more determination than ever to even up the world's series by winning the second game. They pointed out that they came from behind in the league race and that the same grim fighting spirit would carry them through this time.

YANKS A 10 TO 7 FAVORITE IN NEW YORK

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK. — The Yanks are cocky. From Babe Ruth down to little Banjo Bennett, they all feel the title within their grasp, following their 3-to-0 victory in the first game of the world series.

When New York learned with amazement of the thousands of empty seats that looked so lonely during the "openers" yesterday she prepared to move out today within the shelter of Coogan's great bluff.

Forty thousand, a full house, were expected for the second game this afternoon.

After their shut-out victory yesterday the Yanks jumped from an even money choice to a 10 to 7 favorite today. The fans showed by their attitude yesterday that the big town is with the Yanks and there was more indication of the same sentiment this morning in the betting.

The Giants were badly whipped yesterday, but they did not have a hang over this morning.

"Hand it to the Yanks. They played our game and beat us at it but it's only the first game. We might look pretty good ourselves," Manager McGraw said.

"We all like to get the first game. The boys are feeling fine and Mays figures he could pitch every day. That's the spirit of the whole club. But the series has hardly started," Manager Huggins said.

Inter-Class Field Meet To Be Staged Friday At Faurot Park

The Third Annual Inter-Class Field meet of Central High school will be staged on the athletic field at Faurot park Friday afternoon.

At noon Friday the classes will end their studies for the week and all students will go to the park, where 14 different athletic events have been arranged for the afternoon.

Competition will be by classes—the freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior. The class supremacy will be decided in the field events, which takes the place of what used to be the flag rush.

Shortly after school resumed this fall, Prof. Offenbauer called a meeting of class presidents and officers. He asked them if they would rather have a field meet to decide the class supremacy than the old-time flag rush.

Offenbauer outlined the dangers of the flag rush and the class officers agreed that the supremacy of their classes should be decided on the athletic field.

All students of the school were called to meet in the auditorium two weeks ago. Prof. Offenbauer again put up his proposition, but did not demand that a field meet take the place of the flag rush. He left it entirely with the students.

Each class president spoke, and the student body voted unanimously to end the flag rush. That was splendid school spirit and is worthy of utmost commendation. It is typical of Central High.

J. Kenneth Crawford, one of Lima's prominent young athletes, will captain the freshmen; Robert Hunter, the sophomores; Lawrence Calhoun, juniors, and Paul Mitchell, seniors.

The events follow:
75 yard dash, girls, 2 entries, 1, 2, 3—points: 5, 3, 1.
100 yard dash, boys, 2 entries, 1, 2, 3—points: 5, 3, 1.

Soccer football, girls, 1st and 2nd years, preliminary, 12 entries—winner will compete in final.
Soccer football, girls, 3rd and 4th years, preliminary, 12 entries—winner will compete in final.

Tug of war, boys, 1st and 2nd years, preliminary, 12 entries—winner will compete in final.

CENTRAL HI SQUAD DEVELOPS A NEW DEFENSE PLAY

(By BILL BARLOW)
HEN Central Hi meets Bowling Green at College field Saturday afternoon in their annual football struggle, the Centralites will use a style of defense which may cause the Greeners some trouble to penetrate.

O. J. Detrick, Central mentor, will use what is commonly known as the square or box defense. He used this style of defensive formation when Central nosed out South in their annual battle last Thanksgiving.

The square defense is formed by pulling the center out of his position and placing him behind either tackle. The player, known as the defensive quarter back, plays behind the other tackle. The two defensive half backs play back of the center and defensive quarter back about five yards and a little to the outside.

MUST CHECK PLAYS
The two players immediately behind the scrimmage line are expected to check plays sent thru the line of those which slide off the tackles. The ends smash in the usual manner of turning the play to the inside, while the defensive half backs are in position to protect the field on forward passes.

Successful use of the defense depends upon a powerful line, especially tackles and guards. The former can be played wide on open formations, while the defensive line can tighten up whenever line plunges are expected.

Under such conditions the defense can loosen up to protect all parts of the field.

MAYSER COACHED PLAY
Charley Mays, former Yale athlete, who is director of athletics at Iowa State college, was one of the first to use the square defense. Back in 1906, the first year of the forward pass, Mays coached Tome school of Maryland. His team met and defeated Hill school that year in a game which was expected to be won by Hill by a wide margin.

Hill school was coached by Mike Sweeney, who held the world's record in the running high jump for so many years. After the game, Sweeney asked Mays about his defense, with the result Hill school used it in later games and defeated its opponents decisively. From that time until the present the square defense has been used by a number of the country's leading elevens.

LINE MUST BE STRONG
The square defense, however, is not of much account when one line outclasses another. If two forward walls are evenly matched the box defense is one of the best in football.

By using this system of play during the season, Coach Detrick expects to develop a stronger team than has ever been expected of the uptown school. It is likely he will train his men in this style during the rest of the season and climax it when Central meets South to decide the supremacy of the city.

INTERVIEW WITH HART ABOUT NEXT PICTURE

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)

WILLIAM S. Hart's first role upon his return to the screen in the near future will be "Patrick Henry."

The play will be a special production of ten reels and will be based on a story which Hart wrote and copyrighted three years ago.

Hart told these things in an exclusive interview about his plans for the immediate future.

This play of Hart's is his pet child, and so he is going to dress it up for the public in his best bib and tucker. No sneaky, kerechiefs, knotted about the neck. No rough chaps add some heroes.

This play is to deal with the days of the American Revolution. The great heroes who made American history are to stalk across the screen in knickerbockers, buckled pumps, powdered wigs and three-cornered hats.

Hart played Patrick Henry 18 years ago. "I set out to learn I could about the man and found there was little to learn." This circumstance gives a certain latitude for the handling of the play.

There was a twinkle in Hart's eye that last. It was as much as to say, "Well, the critics can't accuse me of deviating from my own story."

He's Only Six, But He's a Champion

Little Jackie Coogan is not only a great youngster, he is a great actor. His poise and naturalness in "The Kid" proclaimed him one of the most talented youngsters in the world. In "Peck's Bad Boy" he has the whole screen to himself, and he makes good use of every opportunity. There isn't a bit of the stage chill about him—he's just a mischievous, irrepressible, irresistible, bad little boy whose pranks are as real as they can be.

There is no minute during his waking hours when Henry Peck, better known as "Peck's Bad Boy," isn't up to something. Hurrying along the street in search for devilment he pauses to put over something else. He's always going somewhere, but he isn't too busy to pause in front of the "Painless Dentistry" sign and, drawing a piece of chalk thru the "painless" write straggly above it a pertinent comment—"Liar."

He puts ants in his pa's lumbago, playing cards in his kerchief and then accompanies his parents to church, where he (his pa) everlastingly disgraces himself. He is likewise the cause of the almost arrest of his sister's beau—whom he adores—and pretty nearly checks out when he takes a jaunt on a hand car along the track on which Number Six, the express, is due.

His one refuge, when his pa loses his patience, is his mother's arms, and you are sure, as you leave him safe in that haven, that no amount of angry arguments on the part of pa will ever wrench him from that haven until pa's changed his mind.

The question arises, "Could a youngster of that tender age think up all those tricks?" Some answer in the negative, but anyone who has youngsters of that tender age in the house, know full well that there's no end to their inventive genius and that they are able to do most ANYTHING.

There is splendid support given little Jackie in this picture. His director, too, knew just how to handle him. So, in "Peck's Bad Boy," maybe he isn't any better than he was in "The Kid," but he's just as good, that's sure.

Return of "Miracle Man" at the Lyric

THE MIRACLE MAN will always remain in the memory of this department for two special reasons, first, because it is one of the most amazing and enjoyable films ever released; second, because it was the first picture ever reviewed in said department. Frankly the last named reason is perhaps the clearest in our memory.

George Loane Tucker made a new picture story when he created the "Miracle Man." He to a new theme, gave us an amazing variation of the methods of the underworld in working upon the credulous and characterized each part with surpassing skill. Betty Compson as Rose, the hard little crook, attained stardom thru her portrayal.

and they won't know any more about Patrick Henry than I do.

"Friends, men high in the government, advised me against producing the play at the time I wrote it because of war conditions," Hart continued. "Propaganda might have been read into it when no propaganda was intended."

"Other friends advised me to write it in book form. I've been doing that for the last three months. I have written 40,000 words and have about 20,000 more to write. It is upon this later version of the story that the photograph will be based."

The most insincere thing about Bill Hart is a white collar. It makes him look like a cowboy "all dressed up and no place to go."

When he feels like saying "hell," he says "E." The word carries conviction the way Hart says it.

Even in his pictures there isn't much bunk. There are only two bones in Hart's two hands that have not been broken or dislocated in screen fights.

He has never had a double do any of his tricks for him. And he told me that he has doubled for other, many times.

But don't think Bill Hart is all physical. He wrote five of his last nine pictures. And his two "weaknesses," as he puts it, are children and animals.

Bill Hart and the twins who appear with him in "Three Word Brand," his latest release. Bill plays three roles in that.

one should pass it up, for there's a mighty lesson to be gleaned, a lesson of forgiveness and charity.

SHORT SHAVINGS

An amateur actor, believing that Lou Cunningham, manager of the Forum theatre, was the organizer of theatrical companies, applied to him for a job, as a "heavy."

"What experience have you had?" Lou asked.

"I was out one season with the 'Plot on the Esplanade' company," the thespian replied.

"What part did you play?" he was asked.

"I was the Plot."

There was something dead about the postoffice one day recently—only the clerks thought there was. It couldn't be located, altho a diligent search was made.

Postmaster Sullivan was called in and asked to the smelling committee. The search was continued, without results.

The odor grew more vigorous. Then one of the city carriers came in. The attack on his sense of smell caused no dismay. He smiled, reached behind a case and drew out a package of Limburger cheese, where he had placed it until he was ready to go to his home.

"Take it out and bury it," Postmaster Sullivan suggested. With-

PROSPEROUS RETIRED FARMER FOUND GREAT RELIEF IN DRECO

Kidneys acted too freely during night, had backache and was constipated. Dreco gave permanent relief.

"It was over a year ago that my kidneys were troubling me so much by acting freely and had me up during the night several times," said Mr. A. A. Pifer of Arlington, near Findlay, Ohio. Mr. Pifer is a retired farmer, prosperous, and highly respected by all.

"I took two bottles of Dreco at that time and haven't taken a dose since for I haven't needed it. Dreco regulated my kidneys perfectly thus putting a stop to getting up all hours of the night. That isn't all Dreco did for me. It also ended the constipation which had annoyed me a long time. My bowel action is now easy and regular every day. "I think I'll take a couple of bottles of Dreco this Fall to get me in good condition for the cold season coming on. Dreco is good medicine and gets my recommendation all the time."

Many people rely year after year on Dreco to keep them in good physical condition. Dreco regulates the bowels, strengthens weak kidneys, banishes constipation, causes a lax liver to action and purifies the blood.

Dreco is being specially introduced by Hunter's Drug Store in Lima and sold by all druggists.

Come in and see the October Maisonettes!

You must see the Maisquette apron dresses, advertised in 'The Ladies' Home Journal' for October, to appreciate the colorful charm of these percales and gingham and the fine workmanship with which they are finished.

You must try them on to realize the becomingness of the styles and the trimness of the fit. A new exclusive feature, the Maisquette form-fitting pleats under the arms, perfects the hang of the skirt and the fit across the bust.

But not until you use Maisonettes through the wear and tear of ordinary household routine, will you know their comfort, their economy, and the ease with which they can be laundered and still keep their colors bright.

For these reasons, women who have tried Maisonettes are enthusiastically adding to their supply as the new models come out.

Hence it would be well for you to make your selection early from these October models that have just come in—to be sure of getting what you want. This store is the only place in town where you can get them.

A quaint Windsor print of chintz design—color charming shades of blue, pink, lavender or red, found in harmonizing colors, makes this an especially attractive model. The yoke, cuffs and pocket trim are of white cord, embroidered. Price $5.00

A plaid Kalamazoo gingham of soft blue and pink on a white ground distinguishes this Maisquette. Gay folds of pink organdy finish the neck and sleeves, the cash and the belt pockets. Price $5.00

Especially neat is this Maisquette with its buttons down the back and its trim fit. It is made of Windsor Premier percale—with blue, pink or black diagonal checks on a white ground. Collar and cuffs of white pique are bound with colored bands to match the checks. Price $5.00
